

RCI DESTINATION OF THE MONTH

A NEW MONTHLY SERIES SHOWCASING HOW TO EAT, PLAY AND HAVE FUN WITH TRAVEL TIPS FROM US!

Dive in with us as we explore all that Fiji has to offer! From vibrant corals to lush flora and even shopping for artfully sculpted ornaments, there's something for the whole family!

DAY 1

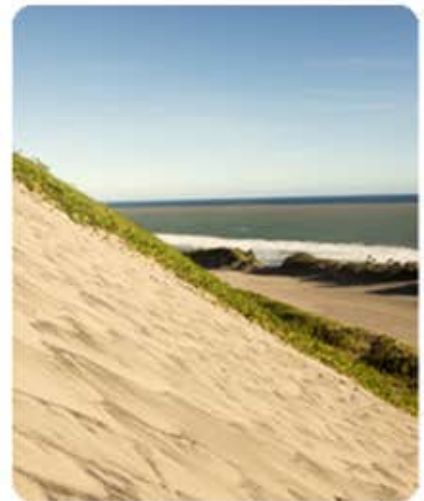

MAMANUCA ISLANDS

On your first day, explore The Mamanucas! The Mamanucas are a series of 20 islands in the surrounding areas of Nadi and Denarau. Home to picturesque glittering waters and clear blue skies, and lush green forests these islands rightly so were filming grounds for the 2000 Blockbuster Film, 'Cast Away' and also popular reality TV show 'Survivor: Fiji!' With a scenic backdrop worthy of award-winning photographs, enjoy all the beauty and fun that the islands have to offer. Young or old, parasailing or dolphin-watching, there's an island for everyone!

DAY 2

SIGATOKA SAND DUNES NATIONAL PARK

On your second day in beautiful Fiji, visit The Sigatoka Sand Dunes National Park. This is Fiji's first National Park and was established in 1987 to curate the rich culture that Fiji harbours and to serve as an avenue of education for visitors. Local rangers who man the Visitor Information Centre will be able to provide clear instructions on general park information, history, and the best ways to navigate through the park where you can fully immerse yourself into quintessential Fijian heritage. Be sure to visit the old archaeological sites and check out ancient lapita artefacts. Bird watching in the Park's pockets of Native Dry Forests is also another must do. Culture, history, wilderness, the park has it all!

DAY 3

TAKE A STROLL THROUGH THURSTON GARDENS

Ready for more history, heritage and culture? On your third day, walk through Thurston Gardens as a prelude to your museum experience. A legacy left from Colonial times coupled with current day Fijian culture, the flora in Thurston Gardens is the perfect balanced representation of both sides of the coin. Indulge in the peace and tranquility of these surroundings whilst giving your sense of smell a treat with the fragrances of full blown blossoms wafting through the crisp air complimenting the fresh scent of the ocean. Don't forget to also visit The Fiji Museum which was founded in 1904 in the old town hall but is now situated inside the famous Thurston Gardens.

DAY 4

RAINBOW REEF

Have a knack for exploring the ocean? On your fourth day, immerse yourself in the teal waters separating Vanua Levu and Taveuni — the second and third largest islands of Fiji — lies the Rainbow Reef. Among its many wonders rests the Great White Wall, a vast wall of glistening white corals making this one of the world's best diving sites. Among the pretty corals in a whole ecosystem of thriving marine life for you to experience. Get up close and personal with beautifully colored anthias and other pelagic fish! If you're lucky, you'll be able to catch a glimpse of harmless reef sharks - what a sight to behold!

DAY 5

KULA ECO PARK - FIJI'S ONLY WILDLIFE PARK

On your fifth day, nestled away in a valley of coastal forest less than 1,000 meters from the ocean close to Sigatoka Town, Kula Eco Park awaits your visit! The park's entrance runs along the Queen's Highway on its way between the Nadi international airport and the capital city of Suva. Initially established as a 'bird park' in the late 1980s, the Park was home to all kinds of bird species. Today, the park is the environmental showpiece of the South Pacific and has been presented with local "Excellence in Tourism" awards numerous times.

DAY 6

HANDICRAFT MARKET

Thinking of the folks back home? On your sixth day, venture out to the local handicraft markets where you're sure to find the perfect gift for your loved ones back home! Feast your eyes upon the artfully crafted traditional gifts such as tapa cloths, woven baskets, mats, bags, and even fans! Fancy an ornament for your home? Sift through the variety of traditional carvings and pottery pieces to add a little island flavour to your home. Remember to look out for the 'Fijian Made' stamp when making a purchase and support the local economy!
